CompVision Dashboard

A SOLUTION FOR REGRESSION ANALYSIS
AND PREDICTIVE MODELING

Peak Performance is proud to announce the deployment of CompVision Dashboard. CompVision Dashboard is a state-of-the-art regression analysis and predictive/re-predictive modeling solution that can be used by Insurance Companies and Risk Management Organizations for in-depth loss and risk analysis. CompVision Dashboard can give you the ability to view multiple and/or individual claims, as well as change parameters on those claims to allow for predicting/re-predicting and detailed regression analysis.

Complimenting the extensive functionality of CompVision Dashboard is a user-friendly interface that gives the user high level control and dynamic charts to provide an exceptional user experience. CompVision Dashboard is fully customizable to suit each customer's specific business operations. CompVision Dashboard uses our Data Transfer Utility (DTU) to integrate with any data source.

Peak is working with Streff Insurance Services, Inc., subject matter experts in actuarial and loss analysis, to tailor each unique customer's deployment to the predictive methodology that is best for that customer.

- CompVision Dashboard lets users quickly analyze important data.
- Spot trends and perform regression analysis and predictive modeling.
- No programming skills required.
- Define your own analysis parameters.
- Integrate with any data source using DTU.
- Use with your existing system, or as an enhancement to Peak's Insurance and Risk Management Solutions.

Connect with the Benefits of Service Oriented Architecture (SOA)

CompVision Dashboard is browser-based and is designed to be used with data sources from multiple types of databases. The web-based architecture offers you an application with minimal maintenance overhead, which is fundamental to Peak's Service Oriented Architecture approach (SOA). Peak's SOA approach is to offer modular components so you can purchase just the solutions you need, and those components can interact and integrate with Peak's other software solutions, and/or your existing systems, resulting in an efficient and cost-effective end-to-end insurance or risk management solution.
